

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An improvement in filtration is seen by treating microfibers with a gaseous plasma at atmospheric conditions. The improvement results from etching the microfibers thereby increasing the surface area of the microfibers.